Capital Exchange Program

Understanding Your Options

Any investor will tell you that investments failures are for learning from, a simple hurdle for which we must overcome and move forth. The key is to avoid allowing history to repeat itself, simple education can ensure your decisions are informed and made with conviction. Craven Capital Limited is designed to be just that; a partnership between you, the client and ourselves. Our triumph lies directly in yours so you can rest assured that we do not reap the benefits of your success until you do.

What Is A 'Capital Exchange'?

A Capital Exchange is the process by which capital is released through the exchange of investment vehicles to release invested capital from under-performing markets into liquid funds.

The whole procedure of Capital Exchange consists of 3 steps;

1. Verification
2. Agency-ship
3. Title Deeds Transfer

All of which are required to exchange assets in order to preserve the value or limit the losses of one's portfolio through corporate sales.

Our dedicated Capital Exchange Programs provide the holders of unwanted, and in many cases, financially burdening assets the opportunity to exit an investment model based on a demand for the asset elsewhere, usually on a corporate scale.

How Does The Program Work?

In straightforward cases, the sale can go from the vendor to the end buyer with a simple change of names and exchange of funds; however, with volatile economic times upon us, the value of many assets have suffered with market fluctuations and inflation rates, hence the need to convert your asset(s) in a multi-faceted sale.

Our teams of advisors will discuss any programs open to you; at times, you may be presented with more than one option and you are advised to consider all factors of the sale before deciding. Sadly, this service is entirely reliant upon the buying demands of our partner facilitator, paired with our ability to meet the requested quota. For this reason, we are unable to offer positions within asset-specific programs prior to there being an order to fill and positions cannot be held open without contractual commitment due to time constraints put in place by the end buyer.

If you have any questions please feel free to discuss with your Corporate Portfolio Manager.
