ABOUT

Green Swan Holdings Ltd is serious about its objectives in helping to reduce the impact of global warming and the subsequent damage to our planet's ecosystems brought about by climate change. We aim to achieve this by developing and operating our own clean energy generation plants producing bio-methane, bio-diesel and electricity and supporting developments in partnership with land owners and other private and public bodies. We also seek to participate in long-term investments in green energy infrastructure in the UK and other global jurisdictions where the financial strength of the project meets our investment criteria.

The Company has the advantage of working with some of the most respected and competent companies in the sector all of whom bring many years of experience and knowledge in project delivery and management to our schemes. Click on this link for further details.

The Board comprises of members with an eclectic mix of business skills and a common purpose to oversee the strategic growth of the Company to achieve its objectives.

Andre Schut Chief Executive

Andre is an experienced financial professional with a career running his own consultancy spanning 30 years. He started his own regulated financial services company in 1991 which was regulated under the Dutch Authorities Financial Markets where he provided financial advice to companies such as Vlaamse Luchtvaart Maatschappij (VLM) that later became part of KLM Air France. He also founded NAFD BV focussing on designing new products for the mortgage market and providing back office services for BLG Bank (SNS Bank) and for 1500 of its intermediaries. In 2005 the company won an award for the most innovative product of the year for a mortgage product called Pension Optimaal Hypotheek (POH). The company designed and supplied all product insurances, software and back office support for this product and other mortgage products developed for the HNW market in Holland. Andre has been regulated under the Authorities Financial Markets (Dutch FCA) for 20 years. Recently, Andre has been focusing on international trade finance and shipping

Philip Robinson Chief Operating Officer

Philip has run consultancy businesses focusing on strategic management, supply chain management and change management projects, with clients across a number of industry sectors including financial services, manufacturing, leisure and the educational sector. Until 2007 he served as Vice President for Europe, Middle East and Africa for the U.S. company, Clorox Corporation. Prior to this role, he held several senior positions within Diageo, including Director of Brands and Group Free Trade Sales Director in the brewing division, and Managing Director for the northern retail division of Grand Met. He was previously with Cadbury Schweppes and Imperial Food Group, where he held a number of roles in brand management and national account sales management, before moving into general management. He has extensive international business experience having worked in the U.S., Europe, the Middle East and Asia for a number of years for both Diageo and Clorox – including working as part of the international integration team when Grand Metropolitan acquired Pillsbury and Burger King in the U.S. He is MCIPS qualified with the Chartered Institute of Purchasing and Supply, as well as having a business management degree and an MBA

... moved into commerce to work for the Overseas division of the Chloride Group. At Chloride he worked as Managing Director of group subsidiaries in Zambia, Egypt and Denmark. He was promoted to run all Group businesses in Scandinavia and a year afterwards was elected to the Executive Board of Exide Europe where he was responsible for 14 European subsidiary companies. Whilst with Chloride he attended workshops on Multinational Marketing at Harvard University and management Relations at Cranfield University. On leaving Chloride in 1989 he was headhunted by a previous boss to manage a start up in California (Thermogenesis Corp) with a novel and effective fast freezing technology. He led the sales team and set up an international distribution network of 39 businesses and doubled the company's sales in the first year. In 2008 he returned to the UK and worked as a financial consultant for various companies in Wind Farming and solar energy based in Monaco. In 2014 he joined CellPoint Mobile (a software development company) in finteq, where he set up the company's accounting and reporting system from scratch and built up a team of 3 management accountants and a legal counsel. He worked with the Penta Group putting together an exit for the owners through an investment of £20million. Charles' career has given him a deep understanding of doing business in different industries and cultures.
